To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled.

THE undersigned Engineers to represent that it is practicable to extend up and across the main Penobscot River from a point on Ayer's Island to the eastern shore, will greatly accommodate and advantage the Mills and those interested in the manufacture of Lumber at that place without injury to the boom above or the escape of logs or other lumber would afford to the owners and others great facilities in the preservation of their property and save to the community a large amount of property which now annually passes down said river into tide waters or below the mills where they can be safely and advantageously manufactured

Wherefore we pray your honorable body to grant us an Act of Incorporation with such immunities and restrictions as may seem just and as will subserve the interests aforesaid And as in duty bound will ever pray

NEW MAGAZINE OF VARIETIES.

BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY,

EDITED BY "BOZ," with illustrations by Cruikshank Never has a periodical more earnestly fulfilled its promises than this hilarious magazine It undertook to be comical and it is comical almost to a fault The humor of Boz is humor per se there is nothing like it, nothing so good in its way, and it would appear that the springs from which it is drawn are inexhaustible

[London Atlas]

The extraordinary share of popularity this Comic Periodical is said to have experienced in England under the editorial management of Charles Dickens Esq induced the subscriber to believe that an American edition of a work of such high repute for wit and talent would, in addition to the Reprints of Reviews and Magazines of a character already issued by him be acceptable he therefore, respectfully takes leave to announce to the public his determination to commence an American series (the number of the original of Bentley's Miscellany, with the January number of the present year 1838, and which he may expect to have ready during the month of February

Many editors of journals of acknowledged taste have extracted copiously from the numbers of the Miscellany as they have appeared and the Pickwick Papers emanating from the pen of the talented editor is now in course of publication in this country The character of the Work therefore from these circumstances may be presumed to so far favorably known as partially to have received the stamp of public approbation which encourages the proprietor to hope that in being the more humble in attempt of presenting the first complete reprint of BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY to the Reader of the United States he has not mistaken the public taste and if no mistake in this respect he correct he may with confidence look forward to the result.

WM LEWER,
Broadway corner of Pine Street

Conditions 1 The Work will be issued in monthly numbers as quickly after the receipt of the original copy as practicable Price 50 cents per number, or Five Dollars per annum payable in advance

II It will be handsomely printed in bold type, on a paper of first rate quality, size demy 8vo; and stitched up in a cover of unique design and be made in every respect to correspond with the London edition Subscriptions rec'd by

BANGOR,

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1838.

THE NEXT LOCO FOCO CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR A correspondent of the "Eastern Republican" over the signature of Dexter," makes some very pertinent enquiries of the Editor of that paper, in relation to the change resolved upon by the "self constituted directors of the "Democratic party in the tory candidate for Governor of Maine to be defeated by the Whigs next September 'Dexter was doubtless moved to interrogate the "Republican" upon this point, from the conviction that there was no source from which he would be more likely to obtain accurate and satisfactory information

The "Republican makes replication as follows

"We are unable definitely to answer the inquiries of our correspondent Report says, (but every body knows report is a great liar) that the ex candidate for Governor is to be Marshal that the incumbent was a little wolfy about it at first but now sees very clearly the propriety of the measure that a part of the arrangement was, that a certain other card date for Marshal should be nominated for Governor He however, was not a very great favorite with the people, and it was determined that letters declaring that honor should be obtained from two or three more popular men That in selecting delegates for a State Convention, three candidates are to be talked of, but when the delegates are assembled, letters from two of these individuals are to be produced, declining a nomination, and that the third is to be thus smuggled through We do not vouch for the truth of any of these reports Indeed we do not believe them This business of selecting men to confirm the bargains of intriguing individuals made months before, is not much to the taste of the people, and we can assure such, that Maine will not have a Republican (tory Van Buren) Governor until some individual is selected for his merits and in accordance with the wishes of the people, and not in confirmation of a bargain between office seeking demagogues"

This idea of selecting a Loco foco candidate for Governor—"for his merits" and "in accordance with the wishes of the people, is very ludicrous indeed "The Republican is becoming quite jocose

GOOD NEWS FROM ATKINSON

We publish below a letter from Atkinson which was not received in season for insertion in our last weekly A few such Loco foco victories as "Truth" describes, would essentially use up that party in Atkinson It is cheering to hear the news which is coming in from our flourishing farming towns The tug of war has come, between the artificial power of selfish and corrupt politicians, and the real bone and muscle of the country, between the Quixotic schemes of the Government, and the sober sense of the people A few months more will decide which is to prevail, and on that issue hangs the fate of our liberties We have increasing assurance that truth is mighty and will prevail

ATKINSON March 27, 1838

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

I have noticed in the Democrat an article purporting to be a letter from a Farmer of this town, giving an account of our town meeting The self styled Farmer wisely abstained from giving precise information If he had done so, the Locofocos might have thought there was sufficient reason for rejoicing that their loss was not greater, but would be puzzled to find any thing else worth publishing

Last fall, the locos had a majority of fifteen votes in this town, the test vote being sixty five to fifty This spring the Whigs at the third trial elected their Moderator They also elected their candidate for Town Clerk But a fair test of the strength of the two parties was the vote for the first selectman, the loco was elected by a majority of five votes, making a Whig gain of ten votes

As to the slang of the article and the story of their rallying as well as they could at a short notice, the facts are, that the locos had a caucus some days before the meeting and before the Whigs had decided upon their candidates, and for the purpose of giving each such genuine loco foco an office, they resolved to elect separate boards of selectmen and assessors, a very unusual course in this town, as well as in other country towns This plan, the Whigs with a little assistance from the more honest portion of their opponents, were enabled to defeat, apparently not a little to the chagrin of one of their caucus candidates

If correct principles gain strength in other towns as rapidly as they have in this, the Whigs may safely anticipate a glorious triumph at the September election to the cause of

The proscriptive and despotic measure of Martin Van Buren, in the removal of Col Lane from the Collectorship of this District finds no apologists, even among the friends of the Administration, save in that small and insignificant band, immediately interested in the new and odious appointment Even the Waldo County Loco Focos, we are informed, are disgusted with this oppressive and uncalled for exercise of Executive power

We extract the following severe, but wholsome strictures from the Eastern Republican of yesterday

"Col Lane served through the last war, and when the army was reduced, was of the number whose face it was not to be retained He was subsequently appointed Collector at Belfast, and has ever given entire satisfaction Prompt in the discharge of his duties, affable and gentlemanly in his department, he has been highly esteemed by all whom business has brought in contact with him His reputation for honor and integrity has never been sullied even by the breath of slander Yet this man is unceremoniously thrust from an office to which he was appointed by General Jackson a few months before his time expired and that too, just at the time he had been stripped of his property by endorsing for a friend If charges were preferred against him, they were made by stealth, and investigated in secret No notice was given nor was any cause assigned for this summary process A man who left the plough in the furrow at the call of his country and turned his back upon the many endearments of social life, has this dignity wantonly thrust upon him Was it that in his youth he was the disciple of Jefferson or that he has been the strenuous supporter of General Jackson or that he warmly advocated the election Martin Van Buren and was the first man in the eastern ranks to put upon him as the successor of the hero of New Orleans Or was it, that last year he supported the regular republican candidate for Congress, against a disorganizing party, that he is proscribed? We ask the question more in sorrow than in anger, for we can view this suicidal deed with none other feelings than of deep regret It men are to be broken upon the rack in the house of their friends if the noble and the good are to be made a sacrifice to propitiate the foul demon that revels amidst scenes of desolation and ruin whose breath is a blighting pestilence, and whose touch is pollution then indeed, may we deplore the evil times on which we have fallen in sackcloth and ashes

[Correspondence of the N Y Express]

WASHINGTON, March 29th
Thursday Evening

The members of the two Houses of Congress are throwing off their coats, putting on their duck aprons, rolling up sleeves and beginning to work like day laborers More business has been done in the House the four days of the present week, than has been done for the last six weeks The Army Appropriation bill has been talked out of Committee into the House of Representatives The Cumberland Road appropriation bill, for continuing the Road, has passed through the same ordeal, and both bills have today been engrossed and ordered to the Senate for concurrence The Appropriation bill for the Navy Department of the General Government has also had its journey through the Committee of the Whole, and is now before the House

The report of proceedings will give you a sketch of what was said and done The Exploring Expedition the perversity and stupidity of that most perverse and stupid man, yclept the Secretary of the Navy, the lounging manner of doing business in the Navy Department, were subjects which have been literally hammered during the day The Head of the War Department had some support as to do him reverence, and there was not one member of the House disposed to justify his misconduct A suspension of judgment was all that was asked The Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, Mr Ingham of Connecticut claimed this much in extenuation of the conduct of the Secretary Mr Ingham was too charitable by far Those who best know the Secretary unless disposed in their charity to cover a multitude of sins, have nothing to say in his favor He is a cross, crusty old bachelor about as well qualified to be the Secretary of the Navy as one of your printer's devils yet in his teens

The bill making an appropriation of five millions of dollars for the further prosecution of the Florida war, will be the next appropriation before the House A furious debate will follow its introduction

A bill in relation to duelling, you see, is before the Senate When the Investigating Committee, who have the subject of the late duel under consideration, will report to the House is yet a matter of doubt

CONGRESSIONAL

WASHINGTON, March 29

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr Lincoln, of Massachusetts, from the Committee on Public Buildings, reported a bill making an appropriation for building a new fire proof Post Office building and making an appropriation for removing the Treasury building now partly built and for the part building of which a great sum of money has already been expended

Several other reports were presented, but none of them, I believe, of much importance Mr Lincoln's bill for taking down the Treasury building was made the order of the day for Tuesday next

The Army Appropriation Bill came up in Committee, and was discussed at some length

Mr Mallory during the discussion made some remarks upon the Army Bill Mr M asked Mr Cambreleng, as Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, why some appropriation was not made in the Bill for the Expedition Mr M said this appropriation was made in the army bill, two years since, and he should like to know why it was not renewed in the bill now before the House Mr Cambreleng answered as well as he could, although his answer was evasive and not to the purpose

Mr Mallory went on and said that he had intended to make a motion to strike from the Bill for the civil and Diplomatic expenses of Government, the appropriation there made for the salary of the Secretary of the Navy But the Secretary of the Navy had made himself so ridiculous in the eyes of the nation, that he had thought it not [illegible]

Mr M continued his remarks briefly, and spoke of the wretched and bungling manner in which the Secretary of the Navy had executed the duties of his office The Secretary of War had even [illegible] compelled to take the subject [illegible] the duties of his office [illegible] All hands [illegible] Carolina, [illegible] the Exploring Expedition [illegible] and if the Army Bill embarrassed [illegible] for that [illegible] Mr Mallory [illegible] to strike it out [illegible] ever [illegible] quality offered

Mr Cambreleng said he was originally opposed to the expedition, but now that so much money had been expended, money which could not be recalled and men employed who could not be discharged, he thought it best for the Exploring Expedition to go on

Mr Ingraham, chairman of the committee on Naval Affairs, begged gentlemen not to condemn the Secretary of the Navy unheard He should not justify, and he should not assail but in behalf of the Secretary of the Navy, he begged the members of the House to read what he said in excuse of his own conduct Mr Ingraham said he hoped the Exploring Expedition would be ready in the course of two months to sail such were the promises and expectations of the Navy Department The Expedition would go out on a reduced and economical plan Four small vessels would go out, and would soon be ready to sail, two of the four vessels were now ready to sail, one was in the dry dock, and another was in a state of preparation

Mr Reed thought the present discussion premature, and chose that it should by and by come up and be fully examined

Mr Montgomery of N C was opposed to any appropriation for the Expedition, and was opposed to it altogether He wished the money spent in that expedition expended in a coast survey Mr M was also for throwing the responsibility and upon the Secretary of the Navy, upon the board of Navy Commissioners, reflecting on their inefficiency and misconduct

Mr Mercer spoke of the expedition as a good Naval school He said there were men in the Navy who had not been to sea since they came into the U S Navy ten, eleven, twelve and more years

After a general discussion the Army bill was reported to the House and there discussed at some length The House adjourned without taking the question

The Cumberland Road Bill was passed during the day A brief discussion took place in committee of the whole, when the bill was reported to the House

U S SENATE, March 29

Mr Webster presented three memorials from different sections of the country remonstrating against the adoption of the Sub Treasury Bill, and in favor of a National Bank

The Senate then took up the bill reported some days since to the Senate from the Judiciary Committee, in relation to giving and receiving challenges to duels within the district of Columbia and for the prevention of duels

Mr Clayton of Delaware explained the provisions of the bill He thought the original bill of Mr Prentiss, punishing the crime with death was too severe He thought imprisonment preferable He thought the bill of the Judiciary Committee better, therefore, than the bill of Mr Prentiss Mr Clayton and Mr Prentiss of Vermon advocated the constitutionality of the Bill, which was doubted

Mr Norvell doubted the constitutionality of the bill Mr Roane did not believe that Congress had power to punish crimes committed in Virginia and Maryland

Mr Roane also doubted the constitutionality of the Bill reported from the Committee of the Judiciary

Mr Morris, of Ohio, also doubted the constitutional power

Mr Smith of Conn insisted that Congress had power to pass the Bill

Mr Grundy believed in the constitutionality of the bill and thought that although a duel was fought out of the District the giving and receiving a challenge in the District might be punished

Mr Knight thought that the crime might be punished in the place where committed and in the District The crime was committed in both places Mr Knight lamented the right of jurisdiction by the supposed example of a man robbing the mail in the District of Columbia and then killing the carrier in Virginia Such a criminal should be punished for robbing in the District of Columbia and for murder in Virginia

Mr Niles spoke warmly in defence of the Bill

Mr Grundy begged him, as it could do no good to make no reference to the late duel

Mr Niles said he had no disposition to do so Continuing his remarks he expressed himself warmly against the practice of dueling

Mr Strange made some remarks when the Senate adjourned without taking the question

[From the Troy Daily Whig]

A NEW NATIONAL DEBT It will be seen by reference to the proceedings of the House of Representatives that the administration, through Mr Cambreleng, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means proposes to create a new national debt, of TEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS A bill was reported on Friday last, authorizing a new issue of Treasury notes to that amount This is a startling fact and one that should arrest the attention of the People This proposition is made by the Administration, as a desperate resort to replenish the resources of our exhausted Treasury, and, taken in connexion with the extraordinary increase of the Public Expenditures, exhibited in the following statements presents a deplorable picture of the fiscal condition of the U S Government The TEN MILLIONS of treasury notes already issued, added to the current receipts have been found insufficient to carry on the operations of Government, and TEN MILLIONS more are asked for The prospect now is that the war waged by the late and present administration, upon the currency, will saddle the nation with a greater national debt than was contracted for the whole expenses of the last war with Great Britain

FACTS THAT NEED NO COMMENT

The average expenditures under Mr Adams's administration, were	$12 644 829 17
Under Gen Jackson,	18,072,355 94
The expenses of the first year of Mr Van Buren's administration, were	25,281,301 57
The estimated expenditures of the second year of Mr Van Buren's administration are	31,925,892 00
There was paid for printing for the House of Representatives in 1825, under Mr Adams, the sum of	$22 573,12
In 1835, under Gen Jackson,	81,116 78
In 1837, under Mr Van Buren,	88,532 46
There was paid to Blair & Rives, printers in 1836, for printing for House of Representatives,	$73,671 65
In 1837	62,466 91
	$136,138 56

MORE OF THE BETTER CURRENCY

Tennessee Bank notes were sold yesterday for TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT discount, and Mississippi notes at THIRTY PER CENT DISCOUNT, And this is the better currency we were promised by General Jackson, Mr Taney, Mr. Woodbury and the Globe, when the deposites were seized with ruthless hands by "I take the responsibility," and removed from the United States Bank We had then a currency equal to any in the world, a currency alike good in every state and city in the Union, in any country in Europe, and even in India But the party wanted the public deposites, that by the influence which their use would give them, they might be able to re elect General Jackson To reconcile the people they were told, "never mind, we will give you a better currency than you have had you shall have gold and silver hard money metallic currency- away with the United States bank notes, they are good for nothing the States banks can regulate exchanges just as well and a great deal better the people shall have nothing but gold and silver Well the responsibility taking President had his own way the people sustained him in his war upon the United States Bank and the merchants 'perish credit, perish commerce was the exclamation of Col Richard Johnson man in Congress and the exclamation was echoed by the Globe, and the whole party and what is the result? Let every man look around him and compare what he now sees with what existed when this war began, and he can answer our question as well as we can The result is ruin! ruin! ruin!! Southern and Western paper from TWENTY FIVE to THIRTY per cent discount, and shinplasters in our pockets instead good bank notes and silver

The time, we trust, is not far distant when we shall have to inscribe over the Webb whig party,

"Here lies the body of W W who never more will trouble you, trouble you"

The following ludicrous though somewhat alarming adventure, happened to a gentleman, in the course of a late visit to the celebrated Cathedral of St Paul London In his investigation of the several curiosities of the place, he arrived at the turret which contains the machinery of the clock Here the dial plate is accessible, and on its inside is a small square aperture for the convenience of the person shifting the hands of the clock Our friend being of a decidedly inquisitive disposition, and particularly fond of thrusting himself into every strange and out of way corner immediately poped his head through the inviting opening He was instantly absorbed in the enjoyment of the view his elevated situation afforded him, his position in reference to the hands of the clock never costing him a thought, when guillotine like, down comes the ponderous bar which constitutes the larger hand right over his devoted head A gentle and gradual pressure on the spine soon gave him a hint of the predicament in which he stood But the organ of philoprogenitiveness being strikingly developed, it was too late

To draw his head out was impossible, and it became an unavoidable fixture, while the powerful and steady motion of the machinery was scarcely at all impeded, Decapitation in its most lingering and shocking form must have been inevitable, had not the bell ringer in exercise of his duty at this moment arrived He instantly perceived how matters stood, and with the quickness of thought stopped the machinery The bar was shoved up, by means of levers, and the terrified and astonished man released from his peril It is said he has ever since been very shy of thrusting his head off the perpendicular, and gives an involuntary shudder when in looking out of a window, his neck by accident touches the frame Greenock Advertiser.

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!

THE attention of School Committees, Teachers and Parents, is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE READER," a selection of easy Reading Lessons, by a Teacher, a new edition of which, revised and corrected, we have just published. It is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers. The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities, and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth, and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted. The book comes at a very low price and has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation, and having been stereotyped, is free from the danger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books.

Those connected with schools, or interested in any manner, are requested to call and examine it.

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

Deservedly the most popular remedy ever known in America!

VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM. The following recommendation is from Dr. Jacob Myers:

Extract of a letter from Dr. Jacob Myers.

"The Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam has been sold in this country for two years, and the medicine has gained an uncommon celebrity, for it scarcely in one instance failed of having the desired effect. I am by no means in favor of the many nostrums, most of which are impositions upon a credulous public, but that which I know by experience to be effectual; I cannot help but give my approbation thereto. A counterfeit preparation has been offered here by a travelling agent of Comstock, N. Y., and there is also another article vended here that is strongly suspected to be spurious.

JACOB MYERS, M. D.

Milliston, Juniata co., Penn. May 3, 1837."

 Many new and highly interesting certificates may be examined on the bill of directions.

☞ There are many counterfeit preparations, assuming wholly or in part the name of the original and true V. P. Balsam.

The true article is signed "Sampson Reed, on the label to each bottle. Price 50 cts.

The above article is for sale by G. W. HOSFORD, Bangor. nov18 4

A CARD.

The subscriber most respectfully announces to his friends and the public generally, that at the earnest solicitations of the proprietors, he has assumed the charge of the HAMPDEN HOUSE. Conscious of the difficult task to please all, he nevertheless flatters himself he will be able to give general satisfaction by strict personal attention to the wants and wishes of those who may patronize the establishment. His Bar will be constantly supplied with choice Liquors, and his Larder with the best the market affords.

The spacious Hall connected with the house is in fine order. Ball and Parties can be accommodated, and Music of the first talent provided (if required) at the shortest notice, and at reasonable charges; and while he shall always be happy to wait upon company from the city, he will endeavor at the same time to render the house what in fact it should be, the resting place of the weary traveller and the stranger's home. In short he will not only endeavor to sustain, but to improve the reputation of the Hampden House, relying at all times upon the liberality of a generous public for that patronage which it will always be his aim to merit.
